b3
b7E

FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

Import Form

Form Type: EMAIL   Date: 10/06/2016

Title: (U) [ ] 06 October 2016

Approved By: A/UC [ ]

Drafted By: [ ]

b6
b7C b7E
b3

Case ID #: [ ]

Synopsis: (U) On 06 October 2016, CyWatch sought out, compiled, and disseminated a collection of cyber-related open source articles [ ]
[ ]

◆◆

b7E

b6
b7C
b7E

5 – Buzzfeed was Hacked Because of 'Fake News' Story

http://mashable.com/2016/10/05/buzzfeed-hacked-ourmine/#NUtuhflmokq8

Mashable

By: Nicole Gallucci

05 October 2016

- Ourmine, a group responsible for hacking the social media accounts of tech executives like Mark Zuckerberg, Twitter's Jack Dorsey and Evan Williams, Google CEO Sundar Pichai, and Wikipedia co-founder Jimmy Wales targeted and gained access to the major media site on Wednesday morning.

- According to Gizmodo, Bernstein wrote an article with the headline, "This Saudi Teen Is Probably Behind the Hacks of Dozens of Tech CEOs," claiming that a "soccer-obsessed high-school student" was responsible for OurMine.

- Buzzfeed News issued a statement on Twitter confirming that several posts on the website had been altered and the site is working to restore the originals. (New York AOR)

CyWatch is the Watch component of the National Cyber Investigative Joint Task Force (NCIJTF), the FBI's 24 hour Cyber Center.

Contact Information for CyWatch: